COUNTY SENDS 39 FOR EXAM; 10 MORE TO GO

Thirty-nine Adams county men reported to Harrisburg for armed forces physical examination today, and at the same time the county Selective Service board received notice to send ten more men for physicals next Tuesday.

Originally 49 men were scheduled for examination today. However only 39 went to Harrisburg, most of the missing ten being men who live in other sections and who were transferred to boards in their locality to be examined with the groups from those areas. Several countians were reported ill and unable to take the test today, and only one failed to report without permission of the draft board. It was believed that possibly that potential recruit also is ill, the draft board said.

The 39 present met at the Selective Service office in the Kadel building, Lincoln Square, at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Their papers were processed and they left for Harrisburg by bus at 7 o'clock.

Next Group Next Tuesday

Draft board officials said the members of the group were in good spirits, joking about their forthcoming physicals and possible army duty. Andrew Larson of Gettysburg was leader for the group and Gene T. Walker, Gettysburg R. D., was assistant. The group is expected to return about 6:30 o'clock this evening.

A supplementary call for ten additional men was received by the draft board at about 10 o'clock this morning. The ten will report August 8. A special meeting of the board will be called to select the ten and notices will be sent within the next day or two. The men will report at the Selective Service board office at 6:30 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

All of the men who went for physicals today were between the ages of 22 and 25.

MISS WALTMAN LITTLESTOWN'S QUEEN NOMINEE

Miss Loyse B. Waltman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Waltman, 50 Maple avenue, Littlestown, is sponsored by all the organizations of the community as Littlestown's contestant in the Sesqui Queen contest. She is a graduate of Littlestown high school, class of 1950, and will enter Rider college, Trenton, N. J., this fall.

Votes for this honor are secured by the advance sale of tickets to the Historical Spectacle, "Freedom's Frontiers," which will be presented at the Gettysburg college stadium on the nights of August 30, 31 and September 1 and 2. Tickets are being sold in strips of three, for which there is a stub and each stub entitles the contestant to 1,000 votes. There are 11 strips in a book, which sells for $22 of which $20 goes to the Sesqui committee and the other $2 to the sponsoring organization. When a book of tickets has been sold, there will be 5,000 additional votes for the candidate.

The face value of each of the three tickets in a strip is $1, but the three sell for $2 in the advance sale.

On all votes in the ballot box by 6 p.m. Friday, August 4, an additional bonus of 25 per cent will be added. Other bonus votes will be computed as follows: 20 per cent bonus on all votes by August 11 at 6 p.m., and 15 per cent bonus on all votes by August 18 at 6 p.m. The contest will close at 6 p.m. on August 26 and no votes will be counted after that time.

The winner will have a prominent part in the pageant and the 10 next highest contestants will be in the Queen's court. The winner will also receive a three day plane trip to New York city with all expenses paid for herself and a companion.

Warns Against "Price Cutting" In Queen Contest

A report reaching Sesquicentennial headquarters at the court house this morning that one candidate in the Sesqui Queen contest has been "cutting prices" on her ticket coupon sales, brought a warning from Sesqui officials that such tactics will bring disbarment from the contest for the candidate involved.

"We have been told that one candidate has been selling the three-coupon strips at $1 instead of the two as a means of boosting the sales that carry the votes in the popularity contest," Harry S. Dorrington, Rogers company representative, said. "We want to keep this contest on a high level and we know that everyone in the county wants to see fair means used."

The regular price for the strip of three coupons carrying 1,000 votes is $2. After the contest closes on August 26, general admission tickets will go for $1 each, plus Federal tax.

EXCHANGE CLUB WILL SPONSOR SESQUI FLOAT

The Gettysburg Exchange club, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening at Banker's restaurant, unanimously voted to sponsor a float in the Sesquicentennial parade here on September 2. Members were enthusiastic in their praise of the Sesqui program and declared it a "privilege" to participate. N. A. Meligakes was appointed chairman of the float committee.

The club also approved the request from the County Sesqui committee to assume supervision of Sesqui property during the four-day program. John Sientz was appointed chairman of the committee.

With reference to the Sesqui queen the club members voted to leave endorsement of a Queen to individual members, who were instructed to cast their ballots "as many as you can, individually, for all the contestants in the Queen contest."

President Guise said: "All the contestants are deserving candidates and inasmuch as each has at least one sponsoring organization it would be appropriate if we cast our ballots for all the candidates."

The club will meet next week at Woodlawn, Lincoln Highway west. A soft ball game will precede the dinner. Plans were announced for a family picnic later this month at the Country club.

Thirty-five members attended Tuesday evening's meeting with Glenn Guise presiding. John S. Clubley was a guest.

"Kangaroo Kourt" Here On Saturday

The "Kangaroo Kourt," one of the most amusing of the pre-Sesquicentennial sideights, is scheduled to go into session here on Saturday, according to John "Buck" Stahle and his assistant, George A. Albee.

The "Kourt" will "try" male offenders, guilty of that grave pre-Sesquicentennial offense of not having chins well-covered with whiskers, or, as an alternative, displaying on a coat lapel, a shaver's permit.

Ladies will be "tried" if they are not wearing the perk little Robin Hood hats that can be obtained in a variety of colors replete with feathers.

An appeal is made for local men to aid with the "Kangaroo Kourt," as "Keystone cops," stand-ins or other in "key" positions. Countians are invited to attend the "trials" and witness the punishments meted out to the "criminals."

The Court will be held on Lincoln Square near the Sesquicentennial booth which will be erected in a few days and manned by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

This booth will be the official Sesquicentennial information and souvenir headquarters.

ACCIDENT TOLL ON HIGHWAYS RISES IN JULY

Two persons were killed and 29 injured in 29 auto accidents during July, according to the recapitulation of the month's activities prepared by the local sub-station of the State Police.

Damage caused by the crashes totaled $11,205.

The accident score showed an increase over the previous month, June, and an equally large increase over July of 1949. In June one was killed, 23 were injured and damage totaled $11,445 in 20 highway smashes. In July, 1949, there were 21 accidents, one person was killed, 25 were injured and damage was $19,265.

Blame Carelessness

State police who made 117 arrests for traffic violations during the month, said that carelessness on the part of drivers was responsible for the accidents, but could not pin down one cause as the chief reason for a majority of the accidents.

Their report showed that Thursday and Saturday were the days when the majority of accidents occurred, but all of the other days of the week were also marred by several accidents apiece. A majority of the crashes came between one o'clock in the afternoon and 11 o'clock at night, but again there were no periods when the highways were totally safe.

Three Cars Recovered

During the month the policemen spent 1,261 hours on traffic duty, 212 hours on criminal investigations, 233 hours on special assignment, 1,022 hours on station duty and traveled 19,245 miles in 372 patrols.

They made 21 investigations on criminal charges and four investigations for other state departments and eight miscellaneous investigations.

Three cars, valued at $3,400 were recovered as was $225 worth of other property.

Twenty-one arrests on criminal charges were made as a result of the investigations.

FARM IS SOLD

Sidney A. and Minnie V. Simmons have sold their 288-acre farm in Cumberland and Mt. Joy townships, known as the former J. Kerr Lott farm, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holoka, Oakmont, Allegheny county. Tokyo, Thursday, Aug. 3 (AP)—U. S. 24th Division troops recaptured hill positions north-east of Chinju and held on today in a flaming battle 40 miles from the main port of Pusan.

The arching battleline was marked by burning villages all the way from the southern coast of abandoned Kumchon, which blazed, too.

General MacArthur's headquarters said U. S. troops and the North Korean Sixth Division were locked in a grim battle east of Chinju at the western approaches to Pusan.

"No gains by the enemy have been made in this fighting in the last 12 hours," the war summary said. It was released at 12:55 a.m. (9:55 a.m. EST Wednesday.)

Hardest Fight At Chinju

For 18 hours or more the battle between tanks, artillery and men raged on the heights just eight miles northeast of Chinju.

On the central front Kumchon, ablaze and abandoned by the U. S. First Cavalry Division, scorched in ruins as the Reds moved into its outskirts. Disputed Yongdok, east coast anchor town which has changed hands frequently, was a no-man's land.

But the hardest fighting was just north of Chinju, about 40 miles west of Pusan.

Battle weary U. S. 24th Division troops were almost surrounded when they counterattacked. They suffered many casualties and lost some tanks.

Villages In Flames

Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle who flew over the whole flaming front said the battleline could be followed by a string of flaming villages. Boyle first reported the abandonment of Kumchon.

Help for the doughboys was near. Fighting Marines in force were at a southeastern port only 40 miles from the battlezone. The Marines came equipped with 45-ton tanks, tank killer bazookas and other weapons new to the Korean war.

American planes set fire to Kumchon as they had done to Chinju after it fell.

The 24th was almost surrounded by strong Red flanking forces. The Americans had counter-attacked to regain high ground they had lost Tuesday. The Reds sidestepped them and attacked.

Red Pressure Mounts

The American hill positions were described as good for defensive fighting.

Red pressure mounted on almost all fronts.

On the front near Kumchon, First Cavalrymen offered stubborn resistance "to each North Korean attack."

The communique said South Koreans were battling for Yongdok on the east coast anchor of the battle line. But the city, once reported in southern hands, belonged to "no one side."

O. H. P. King, Associated Press correspondent in the hills near Chinju, reported both Chinju and the nearby village of Sancheon were fired by U. S. planes in a five-hour raid.

As the battle progressed the Americans seized the heights at Sangmun, 10 miles east of Chinju, King said. The Reds closed behind them. Quickly the Americans seized positions at Wombung, five miles southwest of the village of Chugang. King reported.

King said 35-ton Sherman tanks went into action a few hours after the vital battle in the Chinju area started.

If the Americans lose there, the Reds could move eastward to a steep ridge where an American tank-supported element was trying to hold the terrain that levels out in a flat coastal plain almost all the remaining way to Pusan. There is no river barrier beyond the steep ridge.

"This force is holding its own," said Maj. Gen. John Church, new commander of the 24th Division. Church said the U. S. tanks met fire from Red tanks in dug-in position.

New Arms With Marines

As the battle raged, heavily armed Marines, brought direct from the United States by ship, pulled into a South Korean port, ready to move to the front.

"We will give them the best we've got and that's a lot," said a Marine sergeant, veteran of the Second World War and a typical Leatherneck.

The Marines came loaded for heavy combat. They are going into battle behind hulking M-26 tanks weighing 45 tons and carrying 90 mm guns. There has been nothing like that fighting on the American side thus far.

In Best Marine Tradition

The Marines also carry flame-throwers and the new tank-killer bazookas.

The situation was both grim and (Please Turn to Page 2)

LAKE SUCCESS SCENE OF BIG KOREAN BATTLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

American military reinforcements are landing in Korea and rushing to the support of their hard-pressed comrades—and that's big news.

Meantime, oddly enough, half a world away at Lake Success a battle which may have even greater influence on the outcome of the Korean war has been joined in the United Nations.

I refer to Soviet insistence that admission of Communist China to the U. N. be made a requisite to action aimed at achieving peace in Korea. The United States, backed by the democracies, has been calling for Korean peace action first.

Trying "Horse Deal"
What the thing really boils down to is that Moscow is trying to negotiate a horse deal. She recently indicated that she would be willing to use her influence on the Northern Koreans to cease their attack—provided Red China got that seat at the expense of Nationalist China, one of the Big Five of the late World War.

That is the background of the scrap over procedure with which the Security Council opened its August sessions yesterday under presidency of Jakob A. Malik, Soviet representative. Malik's presence was in itself an indication of the importance which Russia attached to the occasion, for the Soviet had been boycotting U. N. organizations since last January.

Try For Double Win
Well, now, let's take a look at this Soviet proposal to see whether it has any substance back of it. Naturally the democracies aren't going to agree to any such bribe to buy off the aggressors. However, it is a military fact that the North Koreans have overrun the major portion of South Korea despite American intervention under U. N. auspices.

True, we have no reason whatever to doubt that the U. N. forces, with America carrying the main burden, will win the Korean war and evict the invaders. Still that is an eventuality, whereas the Northern Korean successes are an accomplished fact, even though they may not be long lived.

Under those circumstances there is no reason for us to be surprised to see Moscow try to make capital out of the situation. If Russia could get Red China installed in the United Nations, in exchange for Moscow's intervention to halt the Korean upheaval, it really would represent a double bargain for the Soviet.

Big Engagement
Why? Well, because (1) communism would gain much prestige in Asia through membership in the peace organization, and (2) because Moscow can see that ultimately the North Koreans will be defeated. So if that defeat could be avoided, with a return to the status before the war, the Red effort to conquer South Korea could be taken up again at a more opportune time.

There are many evidences that Moscow has on hand numerous projects for the spread of communism. In some of them Red China could play an invaluable part. For example, take the case of Tibet, which China has sworn to take over. Actions against Indo China and other Asiatic areas also seem contemplated. And, in any event, recognition of Red China would enhance Communist prestige enormously in the Orient.

So, as remarked, the U. N. battle over Korea might easily rank among the decisive engagements of that Far Eastern conflict.

Truman Asks Speed In Boosting Taxes

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Truman sent a letter to Congress today urging speed in raising taxes $5,000,000,000 to help pay for rebuilding America's defense against communism.

The letter, addressed to Chairman George (D-Ga.), was read to the Senate Finance committee as it began consideration of the tax increases.

Mr. Truman's new communication arrived as demands were made in Congress for an excess profits tax, aimed at "profiteering."

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) told reporters the President, in his new letter, did not call for an excess profits levy now. "But he did not close the door on it," Brewster added.

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) predicted today that President Truman's $5,000,000,000 tax boosting bill will be quickly passed, "substantially as submitted." The bill, to buy more American fighting equipment, came up for closed door consideration today by the Senate Finance committee which George heads.

He figured that the increased rates on corporations and individuals might raise $6,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000 in the next year, instead of $5,000,000,000—because of the probable increase in national income.

Brannan Attacks Food Speculators

Washington, August 2 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan today accused profit-bent speculators in farm and food products of trying to cash in even at the expense of the nation's economy and war effort.

Such trading on the nation's futures market by a "considerable" number of speculators, Brannan said, has contributed to recent sharp price advances. He called the speculation "excessive and unrestrained" and said it is threatening the country's economic stability and the war effort.

It is obvious, he said in a formal statement, that some means must be set up to stop, or at least curb, excessive speculation if the futures markets are to provide price insurance to merchandisers and processors.

The secretary offered his comment in releasing a report of the Commodity Exchange Administration (CEA) showing a sharp growth in speculative activity since start of the Korean war.

May Ask Renewal Of Rent Controls

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Truman today was reported considering asking Congress for blanket powers to restore rent controls wherever economic conditions warrant such action.

Housing expediter Tighe Woods is understood to have submitted rent control recommendations to the White House last week at Mr. Truman's request.

An official familiar with Woods' recommendations told a reporter the housing expediter also wants Mr. Truman to ask Congress for power to bring new defense areas under rent ceilings for the first time, if conditions make it necessary.

This official, who asked not to be named, said another feature of Woods' plan calls for the "freezing" of controls in all areas now under the federal rent program. That would wipe out a provision of the present law which gives local communities authority to eliminate federal ceilings.

WERTZ LEADS DETROIT TO WIN OVER YANKS

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The sensational stickwork of Vic Wertz is keeping the Detroit Tigers on top in the pulse-pounding American league pennant race.

If Wertz hadn't picked this week to go on a 764 batting tear, the Tigers might be deep in third place today instead of leading the field by one full game. His big bat has personally accounted for four Detroit triumphs in the Tigers' current home stand.

Tommy Byrne, an old Tiger tamer, found the feat impossible last night. As a result the southpaw lost his first game of the season to the New York Yankees 7-3, in the first of an all-important three-game series.

Wertz hammered two more runs and a single and drew a walk in four times at bat, to drive in three runs. The pair of four-baggers gave the 260-pound outfielder seven homers in five consecutive games. That tied a record set by Babe Ruth in 1921 and equaled by Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1929.

Dizzy Trout, a last minute pitching replacement for ailing Art Houtteman, turned in a masterful job in turning back the Yankees with six hits. He was behind only once when he served a two-run homer to Johnny Mize in the sixth. That gave the Yankees a short-lived 3-2 advantage. The Tigers roared back with five runs in their half of the sixth on Wertz' second homer and two-run singles by Johnny Lipon and George Kell.

Houtteman came up with a sore side muscle before he was to pitch. Cleveland's third place Indians shot to within a game of second when they defeated Washington, 8-2. Jim Hegan paced the tribe's 11-hit attack with a double, triple and home run. He battered in four runs.

Phillies Split

The fourth place Boston Red Sox continued their domination over the St. Louis Browns with a 7-3 victory. Mel Parnell went the route for his eighth triumph. Walt Dropp rapped three hits for the victors, drove in two runs and took the league's RBI lead with 101.

Billy Pierce pitched the Chicago White Sox to an easy 8-1 win over Philadelphia. Chico Carrasquel, rookie White Sox shortstop, extended his consecutive hitting streak through 20 games with a single and triple.

The National League race tightened when Brooklyn swept two games from Pittsburgh, 21-12 and 3-1 to close within three and a half games of the pace setting Philadelphia Phils. The Phillies split a pair with Cincinnati, winning the opener, 6-4, and losing the second, 4-1.

Cards Second Again

The Cardinals regained second place, three games off the pace, thrashing the Boston Braves, 6-1. The defeat dropped the Braves into fourth place, one percentage point behind the Dodgers.

Rookie righthander Cloyd Boyer scored six hits for his fourth Cardinal triumph. Boston's Earl Torgeson's consecutive hitting streak was snapped at 22 games.

Del Ennis smashed his fifth homer in six games and drove in two more tallies with a single to pace the Phils to their first game triumph as rookie Bob Miller notched his 10th win. Ewell Blackwell gave the Reds an even break with a four-hitter in the nightcap.

Simmons Loses Sixth

Army-bound Curt Simmons, who flew in to pitch for Philadelphia after getting a special pass from the National guard, was knocked out in the fourth inning. He was charged with his sixth defeat. He has won 14.

It took the Dodgers five weeks to get their June 24 victory over Pittsburgh in the official records. But they finally did it last night when they concluded the suspended game prior to playing their regularly scheduled one.

Erv Palica allowed only five hits in the regular game. A homer by Pete Castiglione deprived him of a shutout.

The scheduled game between the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs was postponed by rain.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

A wide throw from the outfield gave the pace setting Wilmington Blue Rocks a 7-5 win over the second place Hagerstown Braves and a three and a half game lead in the Interstate league last night.

In the sixth inning with two on base Wilmington's Jim Command hit a lazy drive to left-center.

Hagerstown leftfielder Larry Depalma picked up the ball and threw off balance. The peg landed 30 feet beyond second base and rolled into the Hagerstown dugout as two runs scored.

The Harrisburg Senators pushed the Allentown Cardinals back to fifth place and took over fourth by downing the Red Birds 4-2. The third place Trenton Giants took it on the chin by losing to the York White Roses 7-2.

In a battle of the tallenders, the cellar-dwelling Sunbury Athletics and the seventh place Lancaster Red Roses divided. Sunbury won the nightcap 3-2 after Lancaster had grabbed the first game 12-6.

Tonight's schedule: Hagerstown at Wilmington, Allentown at Harrisburg, York at Trenton and Lancaster at Sunbury.

New York, August 2 (AP)—Uncle

Mike Jacobs says that if Joe Louis can make a comeback, he can, too, and that he expects to be right in there juggling the tickets if Joe fights Ezzard Charles in September.

Mike explains that when he "retired" because of serious illness a few years back he retained, as a sort of afterthought, a vested interest in any fights Louis might undertake in his declining years. Mike says he has a contract to prove it.

The International Boxing club, which hopes to carve the Louis-Charles melon, can't seem to recall any such contract with the old ticket wizard. A spokesman for the cartel said he was almost certain no such document existed.

"Would you," he was asked, "like to bet that, if Mike says he has a contract, that he doesn't have one? Can you recall Mike having made any serious legal fumbles over the years?"

"Well, no, when you put it that way," replied the spokesman thoughtfully. "All I'll say is that I can't imagine Uncle Mike handling the ticket sale personally—running up and down those steps the way he used to."

In the rare case that somebody wishes to lay a small bet on Charles' bout with Freddie Besore in Buffalo August 15, the man-to-man odds quoted locally are 1-6 that Ezzard triumphs. Ray Robinson is approximately the same odds to beat Charles Fusari in Jersey City a week from tonight.

the Yankees report, in sorrow, that Joe DiMaggio is "sulking like a sophomore" because of his recent removal from the clean-up spot in the batting order. Old Mize has been hitting fourth for the champions in most games since July 21.

"No one denies this great player the right of his pride," comments Joe Trimble of the news, "but he is carrying things too far when he refuses to talk to the manager, curtly cuts the newspapermen who have been his friends for years and maintains a stony silence toward all but a few of his teammates."

Lay Foundation of High School:
On Monday masons began laying the foundation for the new high school building on the Kurtz playground.

Digging of the foundation has been completed except in the Baltimore street end where the gymnasium will be located. Laborers were still pumping water out of that section of the cellar. Unusual rain delays the work, the excavating work will be entirely completed by Thursday.

A. A. Warner, contractor, says that he plans to employ practically all local labor and mechanics. With the Hotel Annex rapidly nearing completion, it is said that many men now employed there will transfer their activities to the high school building.

The church held his body for yet a little while for the simple service of the faith in which he lived and died. Then the Government which he had served in war and peace claimed him for burial among the great company that sleep in Arlington.

ON DOING GOOD

We deserve no credit for doing good. That should be part of the nature of a human being. If we do not do good, we make an enemy out of ourselves, and defeat the high purpose of life itself. When one goes about doing good, he goes about fulfilling his mission upon this earth, and is therefore happy, and healthy as well.

I have never liked the word charity—as though we were asked to give where we are reluctant to do so. We should keep giving out of our substance—and of our very selves—as though the subject of our kindness or thoughtfulness, were a part of us. It isn't the big man with money to give who is the greatest philanthropist, but the poorest human who unconsciously gives of his nature, his joy, and his hope.

When we begrudge a gift, that is as though it had never been given. I like that word—together. It is then that we feel the pulse of all. When that impulse is broken, we have dissensions—and wars arise. Good must be proportioned to greed, all of a piece. Then it is that the machinery of human hope and happy times gets its adequate oiling process.

In the Bible it is written the Son of man didn't even have a place to lay his head, yet he went about "doing good." That was his mission—and that is our happy mission as well. We can neither be successful nor happy in our doing from day to day unless we follow out this idea.

We only do good to ourselves when we do good to others. We keep living among every time we dispense of ourselves. I recall that when a boy on the farm, when extra work was needed for harvesting, or other work, several farmers near by would welcome the opportunity to help out, and this custom was reversed from time to time. Nothing was ever thought about doing good in such circumstances. It was a natural process. All hands and all farms were benefited.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Medical Silence."

COURTESY AND A COP
I heard him sound his siren, and I wondered could it be

The motorcycle copper had some cause for stopping me?

I was surely driving safely, but he waved me to the side.

When I asked him for the reason: "Just a wrong turn," he replied.

"There's a sign upon that corner, just as plain as it can be, which forbids all left hand turning." It was one I'd failed to see.

Not an angry word was spoken. He was courteous. I polite.

A policeman and a citizen. I was wrong and he was right.

Now anger leads to anger and a curse will bring a curse
And scorn for law and order often leads to something worse.
But policemen being human, treated fairly, will be fair,
And I merely got a warning for the turn forbidden there.

100 TOY DOGS TO BE SHOWN AT HOBBY EXHIBIT

A collection of nearly 100 toy dogs of all sizes and shapes, and made of practically every type of material, will be among the exhibits at the hobby show to be held August 9 in connection with the second gathering of Biglerville women at the Biglerville community hall.

The dogs are the property of Mrs. Naomi Carey, and represent gifts given her for the collection over a period of 20 years. The hobby began when two grandsons, Dean Carey, Biglerville, and Richard Lininger, Curwinstown, then youngsters, presented her with a set of toy dogs.

Bells, Samplers, Quilts
Since that time other grandchildren and friends have gotten into the spirit of the collection and whenever they discover some appealing toy dog purchase it for Mrs. Carey's collection.

All of the toys in the collection are gifts, Mrs. Carey noted. A collection of bells gathered over a period of years by Mrs. Sewell Kapp will also be in the display as will a collection of samplers made by Miss Jean Thomas over the past ten years.

Miss Thomas has completed 19 of the samplers so far, and hopes to have a 20th, containing the Ten Commandments, finished in time for the display of the hobby.

A large display of old quilts, rugs and crocheting is promised for the hobby show, with a number of Biglerville women who make such collections and work their hobby promising to place their choicest items in the show.

Flowers will present their bright colors in the display. A number of Biglerville women who make flower gardens their hobby are scheduled to have some of their choicest blooms on exhibit.

Mrs. Orville Faust is expected to bring her coin collection and a collection of salt and pepper shakers to the community hall for the show.

What Plans For 1951?

Among the often overlooked barometers of war consciousness in the public mind are two factors prominent today. They are: (1) Short-sighted consumers rushing to grocery stores to buy sugar, soap, canned goods, and other non-perishable materials, thereby actually defeating their own best interests by creating needless scarcities and boosting prices; (2) The more sensible attitude of farmers, orchardists, and gardeners in asking the practical question—"What food crop plans should I make for next year and the years immediately ahead?"

Answers to this paramount question must, of course, vary according to the region and even more to the particular farm and farmer. Therefore, among the few brief suggestions offered below are those covering livestock farming for those who have suitable grazing and cereal-growing land as well as for those who must look to local markets as their major sources of revenue.

Meat—We remain supremely dependent on foreign nations for meat, especially for beef. Of course, in case of expansion of the present war to another global conflict, our meat supplies would be seriously curtailed. We should raise more beef cattle.

Fruit—We are a fruit-importing nation, although politicians refuse to admit the shameful fact by referring to exotic fruits, such as bananas, as non-competitive. Most of the fruit equivalent we import can be and should be grown on American farms. We should grow more apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, apricots, quinces, blackberries, raspberries, dewberries, blueberries, strawberries, currants, gooseberries, and such tropical fruits as figs and dates. Growers have no more than scratched the surface of potential consumer markets with all these crops. All talk we have read and heard about overproduction is childish prattle in its application to meats, fruits, and

Vegetables—We import millions of pounds of turnips, tomatoes, celery and dozens of other easily grown vegetables. Our people nationally suffer from domestic shortages of fresh vegetables because scarcity, prices, largely stimulated by short-sighted governmental policies, are too high to permit maximum consumption. For example, it is difficult to buy fresh radish in urban markets during the peak of the rhubarb harvest season. Most of the asparagus sold in northern and eastern markets bears the burdensome price boost of haulage charges from California and the southwest. Ask one of the large chain store managers where he receives most of his spinach, lettuce, snap beans, lima beans, radishes, broccoli, and squash from and he will report shipments from long distances and actually none from the immediate potential gardening region. Why is the added transportation cost necessary? The answer is simple—No local production of high grade produce.

Poultry—Despite the government's egg-storage folly, Americans are still consuming fewer eggs and less poultry meat than sound diets for good health justify. There are vast opportunities for taking our poultry industry out of the hands of a few impractical socialistic schemers in Washington and returning it to the farm on a constructive supply-and-demand foundation. On such a basis there is individual farmer should plan for essay? The answer is simple—No local production of high grade produce.

IT'S DEATH, MY DARLING!

By Amelia Reynolds Long

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 32
Within an hour the sheriff had come and collected his prisoner, whom he had charged temporarily with the attempted murders of Aunt Delphine and myself until the rest of the case against him could be drawn up in proper form. "But what made him do it?" Bobby exclaimed. "I thought he was in love with—" She stopped in sudden embarrassment.

"No, Bobby, not in love with Pick," Amedee corrected. "In love with the fortune he knew she'd inherit once he'd put the rest of us out of the way."

"Fortune?" Pick repeated, puzzled. "What fortune could I possibly inherit?"

"None of us ever seriously considered the land as a motive for the killings," he replied, "and so it never occurred to us to ask ourselves who would inherit it once there were no more male heirs. Pick, of course, would have been that person."

"But what is there about the land to make it worth a fortune?" Beau inquired skeptically.

"Oil," Henri put in. "That was why Grandpere sent for me along with Claude and Mr. Duval. He'd found out that Haye was having the place prospected for oil; and since I'm in that line of business, he must have wanted to consult me about it."

"You mean he was counting on Pick's inheriting along with the rest of us?" Beau asked.

"Partly that," Amedee replied. "But I think he was planning as well to buy out some of the rest of us, probably mortgaging Pick's share to raise the money. That was why he had to keep the whole thing quiet, and why he killed Grandpere when he realized that Grandpere had found out."

"Exactly what was it that Uncle Etienne had found out?" Cousin Jeff inquired. "That's the thing that's been puzzling me from the beginning."

"I'm not sure," Amedee answered, "but I believe he must have heard some of the dynamite shots. Haye must have tried to convince him that it was all his imagination, and that was why he consulted the ear specialist and the psychiatrist. Then either he or Aunt Delphine discovered the red tags."

"Go on, Dede," I interrupted. "Tell me what those three little strips of red cloth meant, and why everybody acted so mysterious about them!"

He grinned at me. "Those three little red flags are the signs the prospectors put up to mark a spot for dynamiting. Even Claude knew that; which proved to Lewis Haye that Grandpere must have told him about the oil that first evening after he got here."

Cousin Jeff wisely turned the conversation to other matters. "What about Aunt Delphine and Peter?" he asked. "They didn't stand to inherit under the will. What did Haye have against them?"

"I can explain that," I put in. "He tried to kill me because I walked in before he could do anything to Aunt Delphine; and he wanted to kill her because she knew that he had killed the others."

"But did she know?" Bobby asked. "I thought she believed that the Loup Garou was behind everything."

"That's the whole point," I said. "When we thought she was saying 'I am' meaning the Loup Garou, what she was really saying was 'Lew'—short for Lewis."

I had the satisfaction of seeing even Amedee look surprised at that. "He'd tried to keep her quiet that morning by threatening to kill you, Dede, if she told," I went on. "But when she got the idea after you'd left for New Orleans that something had happened to you and demanded to see the sheriff, he knew he'd have to silence her permanently. So he slipped out and set fire to the stables to draw the rest of us away."

Lewis Haye at first protested his innocence of the murders. But when a thorough autopsy upon the bodies of Claude, Lee, and Grandpere Dumont proved that they had all died of oleander poisoning, he broke down and confessed everything.

He had suspected about the oil for a long time, and had made arrangements to have the land prospected secretly. But Grandpere had heard the dynamite shots—again as Dede and I had guessed—and had started to ask questions. Haye had attempted to convince the old man that he was suffering from hallucinations—had almost succeeded, in fact. But when Grandpere, upon his return from the visit to New Orleans, had accidentally come upon some of the prospectors at work and had threatened to discharge Haye for his underhandedness, Haye had realized that his only chance to gain future control of the land was to dispose of the old man at once. He had acted accordingly.

"And then Beau just about ruined everything for him by suggesting that Uncle Raoul and Lee had both committed suicide because they'd discovered there was insanity in the family," I added. "And Pick refused to marry him."

"I doubt whether Pick would have married him anyway," Amedee declared, "although the colossal conceit of the man had made him take that for granted. However, I imagine that was an even worse blow to him than Grandpere's will."

"Speaking of marriages," he said, "I still think that idea of mine about making this a combination funeral and wedding was a good one."
"After all those murders?" I shook my head. "I'd feel that we were jinxed. Let's wait until the smoke has cleared away a little, if you have no objections."
"I have, but I don't imagine they'll do me any good," he said glumly. Then he brightened.
"What about Christmas?" he asked. "That always an auspicious occasion."
I could think of no objection to that. In fact, I didn't particularly try to find any.

TO SELL FOOD AT FIRE BAZAAR

Mrs. Margaret Loeffel, president, presided at the combined July and August meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Alpha Fire company, No. 1, Monday evening in the fire hall. Mrs. Annabelle Ohler, presented the secretary's report and Mrs. Dorothy Hull, the treasurer's report. Seventeen members were in attendance.

The main item of business was to plan the part the auxiliary will take in the annual carnival of the firemen to be held next week on the playground. They will be in charge of refreshments. Hot and cold sandwiches will be on sale. All members were asked to assist with the refreshments and with a cake and candy table to be conducted by the auxiliary. Donations of cake and candy from the citizens of Littlestown and vicinity will be greatly appreciated by the auxiliary, Mrs. Loeffel said.

The next meeting will be held Monday, September 11, which is one week later than the regular meeting night which falls on Labor Day. The committee in charge of the September meeting consists of Mrs. Mildred Wallick, Mrs. Helen Oster, Mrs. Anna Scott and Mrs. Agnes Crabbs.

A watermelon party was held Tuesday evening following the weekly meeting of Washington Camp No. 386, P. O. S. of A. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Albert M. Stock and Richard A. Little, Jr.

Airforce Graduates
Pfc. Wilbur M. Sents, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Sents, East King street, and a graduate of Littlestown high school, class of 1949, graduated recently from the Shepard Field Airbase, Wichita Falls, Texas. He spent a 15-day furlough at home. Today he left for Shreveport, La., where he will be stationed.

Pfc. Hamilton Walker, III, also a graduate of Littlestown high school, class of 1949, and a son of Mrs. Brenda Walker, Lumber street, graduated from radio school on July 25 at Keesler Field, Miss. He returned home on Sunday on furlough. About August 11, he will report to March Field, Cal., for re-assignment. In attendance at the graduation exercises at Keesler Field were Walker's mother, Mrs. Brenda Walker; his sister, Brenda Katherine, who is a student nurse at the Church Home and hospital, Baltimore; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Yeake, Baltimore; and Miss Jean Wolfe, White Hall. They spent several days around Biloxi, Miss., and toured the southern states. They were gone a week and returned home over the week-end.

Miss Brenda Katherine Walker, student nurse at Church Home and hospital, Baltimore, is spending her vacation in Littlestown.

The Rev. and Mrs. John C. Brumbach and daughter, Audrey Ellen, and Miss Mary Ritter spent Tuesday afternoon in York.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard M. Phreaner, West King street, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Carlisle, returned home after spending two weeks' vacation at Long Lake lodge, Whitney, Ontario, Canada.

Denies Blaim For Bella Vista Deaths
Philadelphia, Aug. 2 (AP)—The operator of the Bella Vista sanatorium says he is not responsible for the deaths of ten patients in a fire at the institution last March 29. Roland L. Randal yesterday filed in federal district court an answer to $100,000 damages suits brought by families of two of the fire victims.

Randal said the sanatorium blaze was started by Nicholas A. Verna, a mental patient he said had been pronounced "cured" and was awaiting discharge.

Verna was not an employee and started the fire with "malicious and wanton intent," Randal said, adding that damage claims of this nature can be brought only by the parents, widows, husbands, wives, or children of victims.

MALIK BEATEN IN FIRST MOVE TO OUST CHINA

Lake Success, Aug. 2 (AP)—Beaten in his first attempt as security council president to oust Nationalist China, Soviet Delegate Jakob A. Malik comes back for another try today.

He was defeated decisively, 8 votes to 3, but he didn't walk out yesterday.

Instead, he remained to trade bitter words with U. S. and Chinese delegates in a long, wrangling council session, and to accuse the U. S. of leading "naked aggression" against Asian peoples in Korea, China, Indochina and the Philippines.

Meet Again Today
The fact that he stayed, instead of walking out on the Chinese question as he did when he was beaten last January, strengthened a belief that Russia is back in the U. N., at least for the rest of Malik's August term as president.

He called another meeting today (at 2 p.m. EST) to continue a wrangle over what should be on the agenda. Yesterday's session was devoted entirely to jousting over the unseating of the Chinese Nationalists and over what subjects should be discussed, and in what order.

Sir Benegal N. Rau of India, one of the three who voted to oust Nationalist China, said after yesterday's meeting that he regarded it a "good omen" that Malik announced a meeting for today and apparently would attend it.

Assails U. N. Korean Action
Malik wound up yesterday's three-hour council meeting, that marked the end of his seven-month boycott, by attacking the U. N. Korean action. He asserted that peace in Korea must be considered along with the question of seating the representative of the Communist Chinese regime.

The Russian deputy foreign minister, somewhat pale and speaking in a husky voice, denounced the Korean action in answer to insistence of U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin that the agenda give priority to a U. S. resolution designed to keep the Korean conflict from spreading.

The resolution was presented Monday at the last council meeting before Malik became president.

Austin Challenges
Malik tried to out-manuever western powers on the council. First, by flatly declaring that Chinese Nationalist Delegate T. F. Tsiang represented no nation and was illegally at the council table; and second, by trying to declare adopted his agenda which calls for seating the Communist Chinese representative and for a "peaceful settlement" in Korea.

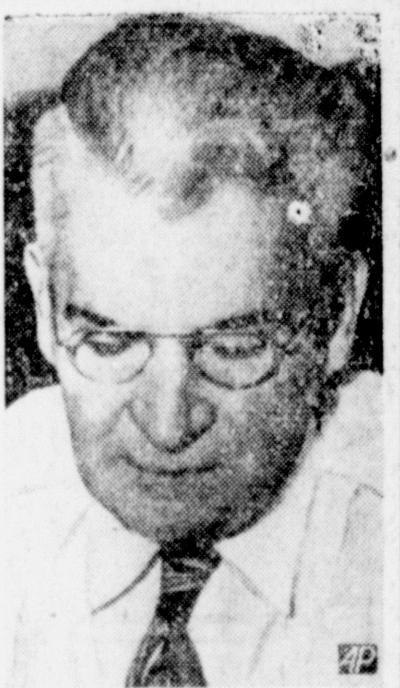

Austin raised his voice in sharp, angry challenge each time.

The first time, he was joined quickly by Britain and France. India's Rau then said that the Chinese question had split the U. N. since last January and that procedural rules should not stand in the way of the U. N. future. Therefore, he said, he would vote with Russia.

How They Lined Up
Egypt, Ecuador and Cuba quickly chimed in with criticism of any attempt by the president of the council to decide council membership by his own ruling. Norway's Arne Sunde, council president in July, challenged Malik's right to make such a rule.

Ales Bebler, Yugoslavia's delegate, said his country wanted Red China in and would vote with Russia. It was the first time Marshal Tito's delegate had been recognized by Russia, which strongly opposed Yugoslavia's election to the council last year.

That was the way they lined up—Russia, India, Yugoslavia to oust the Nationalists; the U. S., Britain, France, Ecuador, Egypt, Norway, Cuba and Chinese Nationalist Dele-

Chain Stores Seek Milk Price Edge

Pittsburgh, August 2 (AP)—Two of the biggest grocery chain stores in western Pennsylvania want to sell milk over the counter at one cent less than the home delivery price.

The chains—A&P and Kroger's—told the milk control commission they are willing to take a half cent a quart cut in their profits. Spokesmen testified they can sell more milk if the price is lower than home-delivered milk.

Charles C. Elste, independent supermarket operator, agreed. He said grocers will benefit further because the cut would bring customers into the stores daily and relieve week end buying crushes.

R. D. Snee, milk distributor of Washington, Pa., said he can sell milk at 16 cents a quart (three cents under the present price) and still make money. He added: "Buttermilk could be sold at nine cents a quart and 25 cents a gallon and give the dealer a profit."

Spencer J. Drayton of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau reports that in the first six months of this year there were fewer stimulation cases at TRA tracks than in any similar period in the history of the Bureau.

NEAR TEST ON SPENDING CUTS

Washington, - Aug. 2 (AP)—The Senate headed today toward a decisive test on a strong bi-partisan drive to cut home front spending. The idea is to provide more money, men and materials to check Communist aggression in Korea and elsewhere.

The first attempt to make a major across-the-board slash in the non-defense expenditures contained in the $34,688,000,000 appropriations bill for fiscal 1951 failed yesterday.

The Senate shouted down an amendment offered by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) which he estimated would slash one billion dollars off federal construction projects, supplies, materials, payrolls, travel and communications.

In contrast to the Douglas amendment, which found little advance support, the bi-partisan cut proposed by Senators Bridges (R-N.H.) and Byrd (D-Va.) already has pledges of support from more than 30 senators.

The amendment calls for a ten per cent slash in almost all the non-defense items in the appropriations measure. Sponsors estimated it would save $800,000,000. Although President Truman has asked administration forces to junk it, Bridges has predicted it will get the almost unanimous support of Republicans and enough aid from Democrats to insure passage.

Harrisburg, Aug. 2 (AP)—Levi H. Snader, of Waverly, is the new adviser in the Secondary Education division of the Department of Public Instruction.

Snader, supervising principal of the Abington Independent school district for the past five years, was named yesterday to succeed Harold L. Martin, who resigned to become assistant county superintendent of Northumberland county.

Even Wiser than He Seems

PLAINLY, here travels a man wise in the ways of fine motorcars.

You know that, by the four Ventipoints and the rich sweep of chrome which mark his car as a ROADMASTER.

You know it, should you trail him on the highway, by the smooth lift of the big Fireball power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflo Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs elsewhere.

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflo Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices, a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks—especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?

Only BUICK has Dynaflo-DRIVE® and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.
